

*An Ode to our Rabbi on his 40th Birthday Tribute
March 2, 2008*

*Permit me to tell you a story
Of a young man who just has turned forty.
He seems pretty modest
For a Rabbi who's hottest
Among those who pray, "Lordy, lordy"*

*We hear that he was quite the rebel,
And at times he was so quite a devil.
With ideas of his own
His dreams were full blown
But his path was always pure and level.*

*In Phoenix he was considered a guru,
Meditation, retreats like a Bujew,
But Torah was there,
His soul was laid bare
Our sweet Rabbi was through and through Jew.*

*He returned to the land of his parents
When Reb Shoni requested his presence.
He moved to South Beach
He was quite out of reach*

Our sweet Rabbi was learning some lessons.

*At Whole Foods one day he was shopping
From fresh fruits to tofu was he hopping,
From the corner of his eyes
To his great surprise,
He saw his bashert, also shopping.*

*The magic between them was boom boom!
For the rest of his girlfriends there was no room.
So marriage ensued,
With great love they were imbued
And they fast became bride and groom.*

*The story that follows is classic
The love that they share is quite magic
Add Galia and Ocean
To complete the love pation
Their lives seem so filled with devotion.*

*We all honor this guy who's our leader
Still o guru and energy feeder
To those he has touched
We all thank him so much
For just being our spiritual meter.*
